

Meet the class representatives for Academic Year 2025-2026

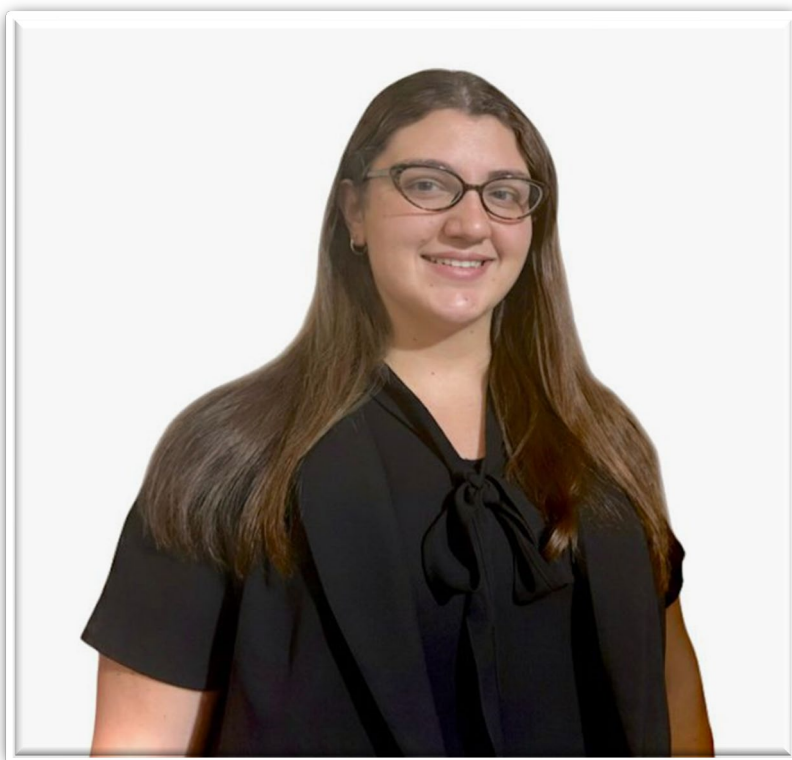

Mary-Joe Al Ahl – MS Class Representative

Mary-Joe Al Ahl is the Class Representative for the Master's in Pharmaceutical Development and Management program at the Lebanese American University (LAU). She holds a Bachelor of Science in Biology from LAU and has gained professional experience in quality control within the pharmaceutical industry, as well as in academic tutoring.

Dedicated and service-oriented, Mary-Joe volunteers with the Lebanese Red Cross and several NGOs, where she contributes to humanitarian and community initiatives. Her engagement in both academic and volunteer work reflects her commitment to leadership, teamwork, and personal growth.

Outside her professional and academic pursuits, she enjoys playing the drums, piano, recorder and ping-pong believing that creativity and extracurricular involvement are essential to a well-rounded student life.

As class representative, Mary-Joe strives to enhance communication between students and faculty, promote collaboration, and encourage greater participation in extracurricular and cultural activities. She is guided by LAU's values of integrity, service, and excellence, and is passionate about contributing to the advancement of the pharmaceutical field in Lebanon and beyond.

Joya-Maria Abi Antoun – MS Class Representative

Joya-Maria Abi Antoun is a graduate student in the Master of Science in Pharmaceutical Development and Management program and currently serves as the Class Representative for MS students for the academic year 2025–2026. She earned her Bachelor of Science in Biology from the Lebanese American University (LAU). With a background in biology and research, Joya is passionate about driving innovation in the pharmaceutical field and conveying scientific knowledge into real-world applications. Beyond academics, Joya has experience in marketing and social media, as well as volunteering in community health initiatives and first aid training. Her diverse experiences reflect her interdisciplinary mindset, leadership skills, and commitment to making a positive impact both academically and socially.

Antoine Harb – P4 Class Representative

Antoine Harb is a Professional Year (P4) pharmacy student at the Lebanese American University, Class of 2025. He will be serving as the P4 Class Representative for the 2025–2026 academic year. Throughout his academic journey, he has continuously sought purpose and engagement, which he found through his involvement in the CCA Committee for three years, where he currently serves as Chairperson. He is passionate about sports and is an active EMT with the Lebanese Red Cross, where he is able to make a meaningful impact in the early stages of his professional development by providing care and support to the community. He looks forward to a productive and successful final year at LAU.

Haya Rahal – P4 Class Representative

Haya Rahal is a PharmD student at the Lebanese American University and is proudly serving her third year as Class Representative. She is known for her strong communication skills, initiative, and genuine commitment to supporting her classmates and fostering a positive, organized academic environment.

Over the past year, Haya has continued to grow through her clinical rotations, leadership roles, and involvement in both academic and extracurricular activities. She takes her role seriously, working to ensure that every student's voice is heard, concerns are addressed, and teamwork is encouraged. With a blend of professionalism, enthusiasm, and empathy, Haya strives to make a meaningful impact on her class and the university community, reflecting her passion for pharmacy, leadership, and continuous improvement.

Larissa Faddoul – P4 Class Representative

Larissa Faddoul is a professional year 4 (P4) student pharmacist at the Lebanese American University (LAU) School of Pharmacy, pursuing her Doctor of Pharmacy (PharmD) degree as part of the Class of 2026. Since her first professional year, Larissa has been an active member of the Co-Curricular Activities (CCA) Committee and currently serves as the Chairperson of the Organizing Subcommittee. She is also an involved member of the Lebanese Pharmacy Students' Association (LPSA), contributing to the Public Health Subcommittee in planning and conducting health awareness campaigns and events. Additionally, she is an active member of the NAPHAS club. With a strong passion for teaching, Larissa has tutored several pharmacy courses over the past years and has also worked with school students to support their academic development. In addition, upon completing her B.S in Pharmacy, she was honored with the President's Award and the Student Professionalism Award. She is currently completing her clinical rotations in the United States and intends to pursue a pharmacy residency upon graduation. Outside of pharmacy, Larissa enjoys staying active, playing the piano, and traveling.

Sebastien El Haddad – P4 Class Representative

Sebastien is currently a professional year 4 student pharmacist at the Lebanese American University School of Pharmacy, with a B.S. in Pharmacy acquired in 2025. He is now pursuing his Doctor of Pharmacy (PharmD) degree, where he continues to strengthen his clinical knowledge and leadership skills. Sebastien is passionate about clinical pharmacy and academia, with a strong interest in providing patient-centered care and serving the community at large. In his free time, he enjoys hiking in nature, reading, and meeting new people. Sebastien is also an active member of several student organizations, including NAPHASS, LPSA, and the Environmental Club. Upon graduation, he aspires to pursue a career as a clinical pharmacist, combining his love for patient care, teaching, and lifelong learning.

Elie Germanos – P3 Class Representative

Elie Germanos is currently a professional year 3 pharmacy student at the Lebanese American University (LAU) School of Pharmacy, B.S. in Pharmacy, expected to graduate in 2026. He is serving as a class representative for the academic year 2025-2026, his second year as class representative in a row. Elie is very passionate about piano, DJing, fitness, and teaching. He regularly dedicates time to teaching students, helping them improve and build confidence. Committed to personal growth, he actively pursues his interests in music and fitness, finding balance through piano practice, consistent gym workouts and working as a DJ in his free time. Upon graduation, Elie plans to expand his expertise by earning a Master's degree in Marketing and pursue a career in pharmaceutical management, marketing, and business.

Tracy Bassil – P3 Class Representative

Tracy Bassil is currently a Professional Year 3 (P3) student pharmacist at the Lebanese American University (LAU) School of Pharmacy, B.S. in Pharmacy Class of 2026. She is serving as the P3 class representative for the 2025–2026 academic year. Tracy is passionate about nature and adventure, and enjoys spending her free time hiking and traveling. She actively works to build a sense of community around her and currently volunteers at Al Younbouh, a center dedicated to supporting individuals with cognitive disabilities and advocating for their inclusion in society. Upon graduation, Tracy plans to pursue a Master's degree in Pharmaceutical Management to strengthen her background in the industrial field and contribute to improving patient access to high-quality therapies.

Hussein Lakiss – P2 Class Representative

Hussein Lakiss is a student pharmacist at the Lebanese American University (LAU) School of Pharmacy, B.S. in Pharmacy, Class of 2027, and currently serves as the P2 Class Representative for the 2025–2026 academic year. He holds a B.S. in Biology from LAU and is an active member of both the Lebanese Pharmacy Students' Association (LPSA) and the LAU NAPHASS Club. Passionate about sports of all kinds, including football, boxing, and padel, Hussein values teamwork, dedication, and balance—qualities he brings to his leadership role. Upon graduation, he aims to pursue his PharmD and a career as a clinical pharmacist, committed to serving the community through patient-centered care.

Marie-Ange Abi Chedid – P2 Class Representative

Marie-Ange Abi Chedid is currently a Professional Year 2 (P2) Student Pharmacist at the Lebanese American University (LAU) School of Pharmacy, B.S. in Pharmacy Class 2027. After volunteering as a class representative during the Pre-Pharmacy Year 2, she was nominated and elected as a class representative during the Professional Pharmacy Year 1 and the Professional Pharmacy Year 2. She is also an active member of the Co-Curricular Activities (CCA) Committee and serves as a Student Assistant at the School of Pharmacy. Marie-Ange is a highly dedicated student who is motivated and enthusiastic about learning. She is known for her strong leadership, organization, and communication skills, as well as her self-discipline and reliability in every task she undertakes. She also enjoys teaching and helping others. Marie-Ange's commitment to her passions is reflected in her 14-year long commitment to playing the piano, dancing, and singing in a choir. Her artistic background has strengthened her teamwork and emotional expression qualities that she also brings into her professional journey. Upon Graduation, Marie-Ange aims to earn her PharmD, where she hopes to pursue a career as a Clinical Pharmacist contributing to the best possible outcomes in patient-centered care and the broader health field.

Isabella Linda Valerie Nader – P1 Class Representative

Isabella Linda Valerie Nader is currently a professional year 1 (P1) student pharmacist at the Lebanese American University (LAU) School of Pharmacy, B.S. in Pharmacy Class of 2028. She is serving as the P1 Class Representative for the academic year 2025–2026 and as Chair of the Newsletter Committee in the Co-Curricular Activities (CCA).

Isabella is an active member of the NAPHASS club and has been deeply involved in volunteering, organizing family aid visits, Christmas lunches for children and the elderly, and fundraising events at Foyer Notre Dame des Douleurs / SSVP. She also contributed to the Lebanese Cardiology Interest Group's research on sudden cardiac arrest, presented at the 2022 American College of Cardiology Conference in Dubai, and co-delivered a local Heart Health educational program that strengthened her public speaking, teamwork, and research skills.

Passionate about student advocacy and community service, Isabella strives to enhance student life by promoting academic support, wellness, and engagement. Upon graduation, she aims to pursue her PharmD and continue serving the community through patient-centered initiatives that combine clinical knowledge, leadership, and empathy.

Yasmina Al Jamal – P1 Class Representative

Yasmina Al Jamal is currently a Professional Year 1 (P1) student pharmacist at the Lebanese American University (LAU) School of Pharmacy. She is serving as the P1 class representative for the 2024–2025 academic year.

Yasmina is passionate about the performing arts and enjoys expressing her creativity through acting, modeling, playing the piano, and singing. She believes in the unique potential of every individual, a philosophy she symbolizes with the star emoji, reflecting her view that everyone has moments to fall and the power to shine. To maintain a balanced lifestyle, she is dedicated to fitness and enjoys working out at the gym and swimming.

Looking ahead, Yasmina is eager to integrate her passion for patient care with her leadership role, fostering a collaborative and supportive environment for her peers throughout their academic journey.

